The Methodist Church was the setting for the marriage of Miss Annie Jim Dorman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Dorman, to Mr. Joel Michael Fulmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Folmar of Troy, on Friday, June 14th, at eight o'clock in the evening. The Reverend Ralph Hendricks officiated. The decorations were confined to the altar which held large potted ferns. Standard baskets of white gladioli and white tapers burning in cathedral candelabra, Candles placed in the windows and those at the altar provided the only lighting. Mrs. Madolyn Kendrick, organist presented a program of nuptial music which included "Sweetest Story Ever Told", compositions by Brahms, Bizet and Frans and the traditional wedding marches. Miss Annie Ruth Estes of Sylacauga sang "If I Could Te'!

You" and "The Lord's Prayer" in benediction. Mr. James Martin sang "Because". The bride entered the sanctuary on the arm of her father by whom she was given in marriage. Her gown, which she herself had created, was of white embroidered cotton satin made on princes lines with decorated neckline and cap sleeves. A short vest of illusion was attached to a halo of pleated cottor satin. She carried a carnation, stephenotis and lilyof-the-valley and wore long quests.

One national holiday every schoolchild in Syria enjoys is "Arbor Day," a December day when schools are closed and

Are youngsters travel out into the countryside to plant new trees on barren or eroded soil. For Syrian adults, as well as children, this day is a dramatic reminder of the need to conserve and rebuild the country's forest reserves which have been depleted by the military requirements of two world wars and land cutting of trees.

In past centuries, Syria's mountains were covered with the rich forests. But this precious source of natural wealth dwindled during critical periods of the country's history. During the First World War no charcoal was available to fuel the trains carrying Turkish troops who occupied the country, so large quantities of timber were used as substitute fuel.

The rich forest lands were also diminished by the standard practice of cutting down trees to create pasture land or to turn the cleared areas into agricultural fields. Eventually much of this land became barren and valuable topsoil was swept away.

All these measures are accompanied by a nation-wide educational campaign which encourages individual citizens to plant trees in all sections of the country. This campaign, culminating in Arbor Day, is designed to insure a great forest legacy of beauty and wealth for the future generations of Syria.

A tribute to the American housewife

"Just a housewife" is a term we hear too often. That's about like saying "just a doctor" or "just a company president." The job you're doing as a housewife is one of the most important anybody is doing

Who is mainly responsible for your family's health? It's you - the housewife. And our fine national health record testifies to the good job you're doing on this score.

Whose tsy our family `s standing in your community?You do. You not only create an attractive home for your family and plan the entertaining, but also make most of the outside social contacts in church, club and community. How far would the charitable operations of these groups get without your help?

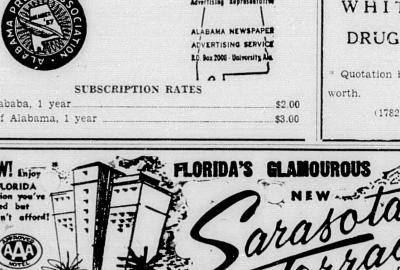

And your family's financial standing depends as much upon your ability to manage money as it does your husband's ability to earn it. Your family savings program is as much your responsibility as it is your husband's.

That's why so many women today are urging their husbands to invest in U.S. Series E Savings Bonds. They know that the principal invested in Bonds is safe-not subject to market fluctuations. And the returns are sure-an average 3% interest, compounded semiannually when held to maturity (9 years and 8 months). With the automatic extension privilege, Bonds will continue to pay that same high interest for 10 years more. That means $1.80 in returns for every $1.00 invested.

Remember, you can help your family win financial security tomorrow—by encouraging your husband to invest regularly in Savings Bonds today. 'And the next time you hear someone say "just a housewife," stick up your chin and speak up for the job you're doing. Where would your family or your country be without you?

For the big things in your bis, with U. S. Savings _____

The Methodist Church was the setting for the marriage of Miss Annie Jim Dorman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Dorman, to Mr. Joel Michael Fulmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Folmar of Troy, on Friday, June 14th, at eight o'clock in the evening. The Reverend Ralph Hendricks officiated. The decorations were confined to the altar which held large potted ferns. Standard baskets of white gladioli and white tapers burning in cathedral candelabra, Candles placed in the windows and those at the altar provided the only lighting. Mrs. Madolyn Kendrick, organist presented a program of nuptial music which included "Sweetest Story Ever Told", compositions by Brahms, Bizet and Frans and the traditional wedding marches. Miss Annie Ruth Estes of Sylacauga sang "If I Could Te'l You" and "The Lord's Prayer" in benediction. Mr. James Martin sang "Because".

The bride entered the sanctuary on the arm of her father by whom she was given in marriage. Her gown, which she herself had created, was of white embroidered cotton satin made on princes lines with decorated neckline and cap sleeves. A short vest of illusion was attached to a halo of pleated cottor satin. She carried a carnation, stephenotis and lilyof-the-valley and wore long white gloves.

One national holiday every schoolchild in Syria enjoys is "Arbor Day," a December day when schools are closed and the youngsters travel out into the countryside to plant new trees on barren or eroded soil. For Syrian adults, as well as children, this day is a dramatic reminder of the need to conserve and rebuild the country's forest reserves which have been depleted by the military requirements of two world wars and haphazard cutting of trees.

In past centuries, Syria's mountains were covered with the rich forests. But this precious source of natural wealth dwindled during critical periods of the country's history. During the First World War no charcoal was available to fuel the trains carrying Turkish troops who occupied the country, so large quantities of timber were used as substitute fuel.

The rich forest lands were also diminished by the standard ractice of cutting down trees to create pasture land or to turn he cleared areas into agricultural fields. Eventually much of his land became barren and valuable topsoil was swept away.

Since achieving independence, the Syrian Government has attempted to compensate for the losses of past years. Authorities are enforcing a strict policy of guarding the country's one million acres of forest reserves. In Western Syria, the forests are still threatened by tobacco planters who cut the green tree branches for their own use. The Government is withholding licenses for excessive wood-cutting and increasing the number of forest guards and guard-posts. And in the mid-eastern section, the Government is limiting forest clearings and trying to find other pasture lands for the cattle and goats of the bedoulns who inhabit the region.

All these measures are accompanied by a nation-wide educa-tional campaign which encourages individual citizens to plant trees in all sections of the country. This campaign, culminating in Arbor Day, is designed to insure a great forest legacy of Proudest title in the world! A tribute to the American housewife "Just a housewife" is a term we hear too often. That's about like saying "just a doctor" or "just a company president." The job you're doing as a housewife is one of the most important anybody is doing in America today. Who is mainly responsible for your family's health? It's you — the housewife. And our fine national health record testifies to the good job you're doing on this score. Whosets your family's standing in your community?You do. You not only create an attractive home for your family and plan the entertaining, but also make most of the outside social contacts in church, club and community. How far would the charitable operations of these groups get without your help?

And your family's financial standing depends as much upon your ability to manage money as it does your husband's ability to earn it. Your family savings program is as much your responsibility as it is your husband's.

That's why so many women today are urging their husbands to invest in U. S. Series E Savings Bonds. They know that the principal invested in Bonds is safe—not subject to market fluctuations. And the returns are sure-an average 3% interest, compounded semiannually when held to maturity (9 years and 8 months). With the automatic extension privilege, Bonds will continue to pay that same high interest for 10 years more. That means $1.80 in returns for every $1.00 invested.

Remember, you can help your family win financial security tomorrow—by encouraging your husband to invest regularly in Savings Bonds today.

'And the next time you hear someone say "just a housewife," stick up your chin and speak up for the job you're doing. Where would your family or your country be without you?

Arab Patriarch Holds Fond Memories of U.S.

Boulos Maoushi, the patriarch of nearly a million Maronite Christians around the world, is a native Lebanese who spent more than a decade of his life as a parish priest in the United States. The tall, grey-bearded prelate was appointed last year as spiritual head of the ancient Oriental Catholic community by spiritual head of the ancient Oriental Catholic community by Popes Pius XII. Although many Americans may not be aware of the size of the Maronite sect in this country, the patriarch estimates that there are 100,000 members now living in the United Patriarch Maoushi became well acquainted with these American Maronites during his service as parish priest in New Bedford, Mass., and Los Angeles. A man with a keen sense of humor and strong moral courage, he came to this country in 1923 to study conditions of the Maronite communities in the United States and Mayico.

Mexico.

"At the time I expected to stay on two years," he recollects, but his tour of duty was extended to 1934. During this period, almost all the Lebanese emigrants in America knew young Maoushi who devoted himself to community service. As a parish priest in Los Angeles, he launched a fund-collecting campaign to repay debts incurred by the local Maronite Mouse and also managed to build the city's "Madonna of Lebanon" charch.

"We had just completed our new church and I thought at local I could relax when I was called back to Lebanon in 1924 to become Bishop of Tyre," the 61-year-cit profess recalls. Focuse-ceeded Bishop Shukrallah Khouri, who cited in the same year.

A man with a broad international background, the patriarch was educated in Lebanon, Rome and Paris, and is the master of seven languages. During his eleven years in United States, he absorbed the values of freedom and democracy, plus the intrinsic dignity of the individual, and today stands as a staunch supporter of all these values.
